
Forensic Analysis of Attorney Kyleen E. Cane’s Securities Fraud
Tele-Lawyer / Davi Skin Pump-and-Dump
Certificate Register and Entity Transformation Chain
With Exhibits A–I

On March 5, 2007, a single certificate — CEDE & CO. certificate No. 5304 — deposited 946,085 shares of Davi Skin, Inc. into the Depository Trust Company (Exhibit C, page 1). That single deposit represents 16% of Davi Skin’s total float and nearly doubles the entire non-enterprise shareholder pool (490,096 former Dynamic Associates public shareholders surviving the 153:1 reverse stock split). The only source with sufficient shares is the control bloc of Attorney Kyleen E. Cane and her family, which held 85.7% (5,008,551 shares) of the predecessor entity through coordinated Schedule 13G filings. Certificate 5304 is one of 36 sequential CEDE & CO. certificates (Nos. 2029–5323) deposited between June 2004 and June 2007, totaling 2,249,825 shares. Combined with 2,295,388 shares distributed to four offshore nominees at LOM Securities in Bermuda on April 3, 2007 — certificates 5309–5312, each calibrated at exactly 573,847 shares (Exhibit C, pages 2–4) — the enterprise controlled 76.69% of Davi Skin’s free-trading stock, liquidated for $6,385,033.

The entity chains Cane constructed touched federal funds repeatedly — at least $49.3 million in Medicare billing, $6.4 million in securities liquidation, $4.8 million in pandemic relief, and under-terminated Fannie Mae mortgage volume — all flowing through corporate structures built on 1,335 false SEC filings, operated by OIG-excluded and federally indicted individuals, and designed to launder the Cane family’s stock positions into untraceable offshore proceeds. These figures are derived from SEC filings, court records, and public program disclosures for the entities this analysis examines in depth — the Tele-Lawyer-to-Davi-Skin chain, Secured Diversified Investment/Galaxy Gaming, and a limited number of related shells — and do not reflect a full accounting of every entity Cane managed beyond identifying additional shells through heuristic pattern matching. The details follow.

The dollar figures for federal funds and securities fraud exposure cited in this analysis are estimates. What the certificate register, SEC filings, and offshore nominee records establish as fact is that the enterprise was constructed to launder the Cane family’s stock positions into offshore holdings. Attorney Kyleen Elisabeth Cane (f/k/a Michael Anthony Cane) is the architect of a decades-long securities fraud and racketeering enterprise operating through a pipeline of corporate shells — Tele-Lawyer, Inc. (private, NV), Dynamic Associates / Legal Access Technologies, Inc. (CIK 878146), and MW Medical, Inc. / Davi Skin, Inc. (CIK 1059577) (Cane was also indicted in a separate $300 million pump-and-dump scheme, United States v. Discala, 1:14-cr-00399, EDNY, in which the trial judge observed that Cane was “at the center” of the conduct; she was acquitted on all three counts on May 7, 2018). Beginning with the June 12, 2001 reverse merger of Tele-Lawyer into Dynamic Associates, Cane executed a 153:1 reverse stock split that diluted former Dynamic public shareholders by 99.35%, concentrating 85.7% of the post-merger entity in five Cane family members and an additional 6.0% in enterprise associates — 89.9% total insider control. While reporting individual ownership at 48.7% to the SEC — below the 50% control threshold — Cane in fact controlled the entire bloc through family members documented in five coordinated Schedule 13G filings all submitted on the same date. From this position of concealed control, Cane orchestrated corporate fraud, securities fraud, and money laundering through four sequential entity transformations, culminating in the $6,385,033 Davi Skin pump-and-dump.

Cane structured the reverse merger and subsequent transformations as a series of transactions designed to conceal her ownership, decouple her identity from the share provenance, and obfuscate control — defrauding investors (both public shareholders and private entrepreneurs recruited into the shells), regulators (SEC beneficial ownership filings that understated her control), the bankruptcy courts (MW Medical Chapter 11 used to extinguish outside equity), and the IRS (21 consecutive years of unfilled Foreign Bank Account Reports on the offshore liquidation proceeds). Each element:

- Investors: The 153:1 reverse stock split wiped out 99.35% of Dynamic’s public shareholders. Parrish Medley was recruited as Davi Skin’s nominal CEO while Wallace concealed a $200,000 promissory note representing retained control. Carlo Mondavi’s founding ownership was stolen through backdated documents prepared by Cane.
- Regulators: Cane reported 48.7% individual ownership to the SEC while the family bloc held 85.7% and enterprise insiders controlled 89.9%. The four LOM nominees were each calibrated at exactly 3.97% — below the 5% Schedule 13D disclosure threshold. No filing disclosed the coordinated control.
- Courts: Wallace’s manufactured sole-secured-creditor position ($615,871) in the MW Medical bankruptcy (January 22, 2002) was used to extinguish all outside equity and generate blank-check shells under 11 U.S.C. §~1145, funneling the reconcentrated ownership into Davi Skin.
- IRS: Liquidation proceeds from the pump-and-dump flowed into Bank of Bermuda (account 1010-956504) and Bank of NT Butterfield (account 20.006.840.351501.100). Neither Cane nor Wallace filed FBARs for any year from 2005 through the present — estimated civil penalties exceeding $72 million.

Cane Family Bloc

The shares at CEDE & CO originated in Tele-Lawyer, Inc. (NV Entity No. C23375-1995, Exhibit A). The Nevada SilverFlume record confirms Cane maintained this entity as a live corporation through at least December 2018 — 25 million authorized shares at $0.001 par value, Kyleen Cane as President/Secretary/Director, Michele Plum as Treasurer, registered agent at 3273 E. Warm Springs Road, Las Vegas. The coordinated family control structure is documented in Schedule 13G filings submitted to the SEC on June 29, 2001 — all filed on the same date:

Including Wallace/Sim, 89.9% of post-merger shares were enterprise-controlled.

Shirley Cane — Cane's mother and a 5.35% bloc shareholder — co-signed the $1 million secured appearance bond when Cane was arrested on the federal securities fraud indictment (Exhibit H). Susan Cane, Cane's wife, was the second surety on the bond.

Corporate Transformations

Cane funneled the family bloc through four transformations, each severing a different link in the documentary chain:

1. Tele-Lawyer → LATI (June 12, 2001): Reverse merger converting private equity into publicly registered securities. 153:1 reverse stock split. Cane family bloc: 85.7%; enterprise insiders: 89.9%. Dynamic issued 56.5 million shares converting $8.6 million in debt to equity under Regulation S, establishing offshore-eligible instruments from inception.

2. LATI → MW Medical (March 11, 1998 spin-off; January 22, 2002 bankruptcy): Duplicated Cane's beneficial interest across a second CIK (0001059577). Bankruptcy extinguished outside shareholders. Wallace's manufactured $615,871 secured position preserved Cane's interest.

3. MW Medical → Davi Skin (June 21, 2004 reverse merger): Post-bankruptcy shell became the terminal liquidation vehicle. First CEDE deposits (certificates 2029–2030) issued four days later, confirming immediate conversion of pre-existing restricted shares.

4. Davi Skin → Offshore liquidation (April 3, 2007): Wallace's $200,000 note converted to 2,295,388 shares distributed to four LOM nominees (certificates 5309–5312). Combined with 2,249,825 CEDE & CO shares: 76.69% of free-trading stock, 89% of trading volume. Liquidation yielded $6,385,033.

Backdated Identity

Cane continuously operated as Michael A. Cane through at least late 2003. A Clark County quitclaim deed recorded May 19, 2004 (#20040519-0004721, Exhibit B) — grantor Michael A. Cane to grantee Kyleen E. Cane — cites a “court ordered change of name from Michael A. Cane to Kyleen E. Cane.” Cane reported the change to the SEC as occurring June 28, 2001¹ — backdating it by approximately two and a half years (Exhibit I).

Regulation S Opinion Letters

Cane, as the attorney providing Regulation S opinion letters, controlled the legend removal process — simultaneously the beneficial owner of the shares and the legal gatekeeper authorizing their release for trading. The conversion pathway: restricted LATI shares → MW Medical (1998 spin-off) → Davi Skin (2004 reverse merger) → restrictive legends removed by Pacific Stock Transfer → deposited at CEDE & CO for OTC trading. Shares held at CEDE & CO in street name are beneficially owned by the depositor but appear on no public register. Cane’s role becomes invisible: she appears only as the attorney issuing opinion letters, not as the beneficial owner.

Certificate Register

The attached Pacific Stock Transfer register page (CUSIP 238528103, Exhibit C) is the forensic proof closing the chain.

On April 3, 2007, certificates 5309–5312 were issued to four LOM nominees (573,847 shares each, 3.97% each — calibrated below the 5% Schedule 13D disclosure threshold).

The register documents 36 sequential CEDE & CO certificates (Nos. 2029–5323), originally issued from Legal Access Technologies, Inc. (f/k/a Dynamic Associates, Inc., f/k/a Tele-Lawyer, Inc.) on August 31, 2004.

The share provenance traces directly from Cane’s June 12, 2001 reverse merger position through MW Medical’s bankruptcy into Davi Skin’s pump-and-dump — a continuous chain of beneficial ownership across four entity transformations documented in a single register page.

¹Form 5, Legal Access Technologies Inc., filed by Kyleen E. Cane (July 22, 2004), Accession No. 0001255294-04-000216 (SGML header: “FORMER CONFORMED NAME: CANE MICHAEL A,” “DATE OF NAME CHANGE: 20010628”). The backdating severed the investigative trail: any analyst tracing the Davi Skin certificate chain encounters “Michael A. Cane” and has no public record connecting that name to the current operator.

Federal Funds Exposure

Dynamic Associates — the entity in which Cane concealed her family’s 85.7% majority control while serving as corporate attorney — operated Genesis Health Management Corporation, a geropsychiatric hospital network spanning up to 32 units across seven states. Genesis billed approximately $49.3 million in Medicare fees between 1994 and 2001, representing 100% of Dynamic’s operating revenue. Cane used management fees from this Medicare-dependent operation to finance the broader enterprise, including the MW Medical spin-off, the Davi Skin pump-and-dump, and the offshore liquidation infrastructure.

Entity	Federal Program	Period	Amount
Dynamic/Genesis	Medicare billing	1994–2001	$49,300,000
MW Medical/Davi Skin	SEC-regulated securities	2004–2007	$6,385,033
SDI/Secured Lending	Fannie Mae mortgages	2006–2008	undetermined
Galaxy Gaming (ex-SDI)	SBA PPP Loan	Apr. 2020	$835,300
Galaxy Gaming (ex-SDI)	Fed. Reserve Main St. Loan	Oct. 2020	$4,000,000
Multiple entities	FBAR non-filing penalties	2005–present	$72,000,000+
Aggregate (excl. FBAR penalties)			$60,520,333+
Aggregate (incl. FBAR civil penalties)			$132,520,333+

The Medicare fraud exposure is compounded by three additional facts. First, Dynamic Associates disclosed a qui tam action by former Genesis employees in a single SEC filing (Q2 1999 10-QSB, Accession No. 0001016295-99-000101) and then dropped the disclosure from all subsequent filings — a material omission while the enterprise continued billing Medicare at approximately $2 million per quarter for two more years.² Second, the enterprise employed Robert B. Spertell, M.D.

²10-QSB, Dynamic Associates Inc. (Q2 1999), CIK 878146, Accession No. 0001016295-99-000101. No subsequent filing references the qui tam action.

as COO and Chief Scientist of its MW Medical subsidiary from April 1996 through August 1999 at $110,000 per year — while Spertell had been excluded from all federal healthcare programs by the HHS Office of Inspector General since October 9, 1991 (42 U.S.C. §~1320a-7(b)(4)).³ Third, co-acquirer David Hunter — whose criminal history is detailed below — was under active federal investigation for Medicaid fraud at the time he acquired Dynamic Associates, a fact never disclosed in any SEC filing.⁴

Shell Entity Pool and Enterprise Scale

The forensic analysis documented here relies on stock transfer registers — snapshots of beneficial ownership frozen at specific points in time. The Tele-Lawyer-to-Davi-Skin chain involved two SEC-registered CIKs (Dynamic Associates/LATI, CIK 878146; MW Medical/Davi Skin, CIK 1059577), one private entity (Tele-Lawyer), and dozens of named participants. Beyond this chain, Cane simultaneously controlled or served as securities counsel for additional public shells — Las Vegas Gaming, Inc. (CIK 1103993), Sedona Software Solutions (CIK 1100131), and Secured Diversified Investment, Ltd. (CIK 13156, later Galaxy Gaming) — each exhibiting the same structural pattern of concealed beneficial ownership, manufactured board control, and insider-directed share issuances. Across all documented entity chains, Cane is the sole common node — attorney, beneficial owner, officer, director, SOX certifier, Regulation S opinion letter author, and registered agent — a pattern of singular centrality that no legitimate securities attorney would occupy across multiple unrelated public companies.

Dynamic Associates itself originated as a blind-pool shell manufactured by David R. Yeaman, who was convicted in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania for operating a factory of 92 such shells between 1986 and 1991. On August 30, 1995, three individuals — Harry C. Moll (a Vancouver Stock Exchange-blacklisted penny stock promoter), Jan Wallace, and David L. Hunter — acquired Dynamic Associates and a second Yeaman shell, Demure/Claire Technologies. Twenty-one days later, Hunter was indicted on nineteen counts of Medicaid fraud (United States v. Hunter, 5:95-cr-00020, S.D. Miss.), pled guilty January 22, 1996, and was imprisoned at FCI Texarkana (BOP Register No. 04178-043). This provenance was never disclosed in any SEC filing.

The six primary CIKs under Cane’s direct control or beneficial ownership generated 1,335 SEC filings across a combined 73 entity-years of filing activity:

Entity	CIK	Filings	Active Period
SDI / Galaxy Gaming	13156	724	2000–2025
LVGI (Las Vegas Gaming)	1103993	241	2000–2014
MW Medical / Davi Skin	1059577	180	1998–2012
Dynamic / LATI	878146	130	1996–2006
Sedona Software Solutions	1100131	48	2001–2006
Kyleen Cane (personal)	1144030	12	2001–2004
Total (primary CIKs)		1,335	1996–2025

The broader EDGAR analysis identified an additional 672 entities bearing Cane Clark LLP filing agent attribution (CIK 0001255294), opinion letter signatures, or Cane Clark Agency LLC registered agent designations — generating 6,274 total SEC filings across a 16-year period (1999–2015). Of these 672 entities, 71.7% filed five or fewer times — consistent with disposable shell vehicles created for single-transaction extraction cycles. One recurring control heuristic is the convertible promissory note: Cane or Wallace would extend a loan secured by all corporate assets, creating a concealed majority control position over the entity and signaling that the underlying securities were already structured and placed for extraction. The analysis is confined to what EDGAR metadata, filing agent attribution, and registered agent records document; entities operating outside SEC reporting requirements are not captured.

³HHS Office of Inspector General, LEIE, Robert B. Spertell, M.D. (DOB 04/18/1949, UPIN A47027), exclusion date October 9, 1991, never reinstated.

⁴Docket Sheet, United States v. Hunter, No. 5:95-cr-00020-DCB (S.D. Miss.) (19 counts, 42 U.S.C. §~1320a(f); guilty plea Jan. 22, 1996; OIG-excluded Oct. 29, 1996).

The Discala prosecution (United States v. Discala, 1:14-cr-00399, EDNY) charged a $300 million pump-and-dump across three to four entities in which Cane served as securities counsel. While Cane was acquitted on all three counts at trial (May 7, 2018), the scale of that scheme — $300 million across a handful of shells — suggests that the $6.4 million Davi Skin liquidation documented here represents one cycle of a repeating pattern, not the full scope of Cane’s enterprise. The hard evidence is confined to what stock transfer registers, SEC filings, and third-party records document, but the network topology is unambiguous: Cane occupied the identical structural position — attorney, hidden beneficial owner, corporate officer — in each entity, and no other participant appears across all chains.

SEC Filings as Wire Fraud

The sole purpose of maintaining Dynamic Associates, Legal Access Technologies, MW Medical, and Davi Skin as SEC-reporting public companies was to launder Cane’s family bloc into free-trading securities and offshore liquidation proceeds. Every SEC filing transmitted electronically through EDGAR — 310 filings across two CIKs (878146 and 1059577) — constituted a use of interstate wires in furtherance of this scheme under 18 U.S.C. §~1343. The filings include beneficial ownership misrepresentations (Schedule 13D/G), 40 Sarbanes-Oxley certifications signed under penalty of perjury attesting to financial statements Cane knew to be false (25 Section 302, 15 Section 906), and annual/quarterly reports that concealed the family bloc’s control, the CEDE & CO. accumulation, the offshore nominee structure, and all related-party transactions. Each filing was a discrete act of wire fraud. These 310 SEC filings represent only the EDGAR-transmitted subset of the enterprise’s false representations to government agencies; they do not include the false court filings, bankruptcy schedules, tax returns, unreported FBARs, and other regulatory submissions documented elsewhere in this analysis.

Cane continues to commit wire fraud in furtherance of the enterprise’s concealment. On September 9, 2016 — while under federal indictment for the $300 million Discala pump-and-dump scheme (United States v. Discala, 1:14-cr-00399, EDNY) and released on a $1 million secured appearance bond (Exhibit H) with the express condition that she obey all laws — Cane filed a defamation lawsuit in Clark County, Nevada (Cane v. Phillips, A-16-743194-C), seeking to de-index online court records documenting her criminal history with Wallace. The timing was not coincidental: Cane filed the lawsuit while facing federal trial, seeking to suppress publicly available records documenting her prior schemes with Wallace.

Cane’s defamation claims denied her decades-long criminal activity with Wallace, despite hundreds of victims and significant prior litigation. Co-conspirator William Hearn executed a false “Affidavit of Personal Service” on October 20, 2016 (Exhibit G), declaring under penalty of perjury that he served Phillips at 2801 1st Ave, Seattle — while Phillips was approximately 1,800 miles away in Southern California. Based on Hearn’s perjured affidavit, the Nevada court entered a $4,888,924.78 default judgment on June 22, 2017 (Exhibit F) and ordered Google, Yahoo, and Bing to de-index websites documenting Cane’s securities fraud and criminal proceedings.

The fraud upon the court did not end with the judgment. On June 29, 2023, Cane filed an Affidavit for Renewal of Judgment, extending the fraudulent judgment and re-triggering the de-indexing orders requiring search engines to remove court records documenting Cane’s securities fraud. On October 23, 2025, Cane obtained a settlement from co-defendant Seyler conditioned on his agreement to cease all investigation — a silencing mechanism at zero monetary cost to Cane. Each of these acts — the fabricated lawsuit, the false affidavit of service, the resulting de-indexing order, the judgment renewal, and the Seyler settlement — constituted a use of interstate wires (18 U.S.C. §~1343) and obstruction of justice (18 U.S.C. §~1512). The June 29, 2023 renewal extends the RICO statute of limitations through June 29, 2027, and the October 23, 2025 Seyler settlement extends it through October 23, 2029.

Research Methodology and Source Data

The findings in this letter are derived from SEC EDGAR accession archives, filing metadata, and SGML headers cross-referenced against court filings, federal criminal discovery materials, depositions, shareholder registers, and emails. The analysis would scale substantially with government subpoena power over bank records, brokerage accounts, and offshore financial institutions not yet accessible.
